Samarium: A Silicon

My parents left to Americium and after a couple of hours alone, I got Bohrium. So I decided to go outside. As I was walking along the side of Rhodium. I met a strange guy. His name was Samarium. His Tungsten was yellow and he was wearing a Terbium. Hafnium of his shirt was ripped and he was Actinium like he is really smart or should I say like he has won a Nobelium prize.

Holmium!!!!

He told me that he has met the Titanium Promethium (Titan Promethium). “What a Silicon” I told myself.

He answered me that he is serious about this and he has even been to Mercury.

I asked him how he has met Promethium and went to Mercury and he told me that he has discovered the fastest machine to travel through space and time.

He also has met Einsteinium and Mendelevium. He was the most Radium guy I ever met. I let him talk because he was passing my time. He Tellurium me that he has been to Indium and Europium. He can Curium people with cancer. The funniest thing was that he thought he was so beautiful that he could go into Actinium Bismuth. Then he started to explain me three Lawrencium of motion.

Holmium!!!! I woke and realized that I was dreaming.
